GRADUATE HIGH SCHOOL AS A REGISTERED BEHAVIORAL TECHNICIAN
This is an great opportunity for anyone interested in a career working with special needs or autistic children.

Baker College’s Special Needs Paraprofessional/Behavior Technician Certificate program will prepare you to become a Registered Behavior Technician (RBT) and enter your chosen career field as soon as you graduate high school!

Qualified candidates in this field are in huge demand. Baker College® and its partner organizations, the Area Health Education Center (AHEC) and the University Pediatricians Autism Center, have developed this program to prepare you for employment in:

- P-12 schools
- Head Start
- Resource rooms
- Private clinics
- Center-based programs
- Not-for-profit organizations

Should you wish to advance your career, this program will count as credit earned toward your Associate of Applied Science (AAS) Paraprofessional: P-12 degree at Baker College. Not only will you be in the industry work force sooner, but you’ll have a leg up on an advanced degree.

NOTE: You must be 18 years old to attain a job as a Registered Behavioral Technician.
